About Us

Tshepa Basadi Minerals is a black, female-owned subsidiary of the Tshepa Basadi Group, redefining what it means to “mine differently.”

We combine cutting-edge exploration methods with community-driven strategies, bringing responsible, innovative practices to every phase of our projects.

By centering our work on environmental care and social upliftment, we aim not only to uncover valuable resources but also to leave a lasting, positive impact in the regions where we operate.

Vision

To evolve into a transformative mining company that sets industry standards in sustainability and empowerment, fostering positive change and growth within the communities we operate.

Mission

Our mission is to revolutionize the mining industry by prioritizing community involvement, sustainability, and ethical practices. We focus on extracting value responsibly from the earth, with a keen eye on environmental stewardship and social responsibility.

Our Pledge

To create a future where mining contributes to community development, we are committed to mining responsibly and inclusively, ensuring that our operations leave a positive legacy.

Core Values

Innovation: Embracing new technologies for smarter and safer exploration and mining.

Sustainability: Minimizing environmental impact and promoting resource efficiency.

Empowerment: Supporting and creating opportunities for women and marginalized communities in mining.

Focus Area

Battery Metals – Leading the charge in powering the future with sustainable and ethical sourcing methods. Our exploration projects are in their early phases, aiming to secure substantial and viable deposits in these strategic regions.
